the Mayor Would Be Irremovable What-ever He Did This Side of Felinny-The Brothers Could Behead Every Faid Ap-Tammany Could Riot in All Departments.

With Augustus Van Wyck Governor of the tests of New York, Robert A. Van Wyck, Mayor the city of New York, would be irremovable. miess his office were forcelted under the Penal Under the charter nobody but his brother, the Governor, could suspend or re-more the Mayor, and his brother, the Govarnor, would not do it. As one of the framers the charter recently remarked:
"Had any member of the Charter Commisden ever dreamed that the brother of a Mayor New York would be nominated for Governor you may believe that the powers and duties of he Mayor would probably have been otherthe Mayor would probably have been other-wise defined than they are in the charter. It could easily happen that two brothers, holding respectively the offices of Governor and Mayor at the same time, could hold New York at their nercy, and the Mayor could do or refuse to do bout anything he pleased."

The voters not only of this city, but all over the State, have come to view the attempt of Bishard Croker to put Augustus Van Wyck in the Governor's chair in much the same light as this member of the Charter Commission. A reporter of THE SUN was talking with the Chal-man of a Democratic County Committee rom up the State yesterday morning. This man is one of the best informed politicians in the State, and, since 1888, has correctly pre-dicted the result of every election in this State in speaking of the situation north of the Bronx

The Democratic situation doesn't please me. I'm not saying that Roosevelt will be electd, but I do say that anybody but a Van Wyel at the head of the Democratic ticket would have come a blamed sight nearer beating him. You can't whip up-State Democrats into line the way Croker whips the Tammany men into line down here. They're not the same kind of nocrats. Most of them are men who do their own thinking, and they won't be bossed I find that this family business don't go down with them, and they're thinking about it too Democrat after Democrat in my county has said to me that with one Van Wyck as Mayor and another as Governor the people will have to ask Croker for the privilege of breathing, and up-State Democrats don't breathe that way."

This statement gives something of an idea of the sentiment north of the Bronx, and the feeling is naturally stronger down here. It is of vital interest to the citizens of this city whether or not the Mayor may do whatever he is ordered to do by the boss and yet continue to hold office, because his brother, the Gover nor, won't remove him. Under such a condition of affairs the city would be practically at the mercy of Van Wyck. Van Wyck & Co. Greater New York would lie powerless at Croker's feet with one Van Wyck Mayor and nother Governor:

Croker's feet with one Van Wyck Mayor and another Governor:

SEC 94. The executive power of the city of New York, as constituted by this act, shall be rested in the Mayor and the officers of the departments. The Mayor shall be the chief executive officer of the city, " and shall hold his office for the term of four years.

SEC 95. At any time within six months after the commencement of his term of office, the Mayor, elected for the full term, may, whenever in his judgment the public interests shall so require, remove from office any public officer holding office by appointment from the Mayor, except members of the Board of Education and school boards, and except, also, judicial officers for whose removal other provision is made by the Constitution. After the expiration of said period of six months any such public officer may be removed by the Mayor for cause, upon charges preferred and after opportunity to ke heard, subject, however, before such removal shall take effect, to the approvat of the Governor expressed in writing.

BEC 115. It shall be the duty of the Mayor to be vigilant and active in causing the ordinances of the city and laws of the State to be executed and enforced, and for that purpose he may call forgither for consultation and cooperation any or all the heads of departments and all Commissioners except as otherwise provided in this act.

SEC 118. The Mayor may be removed from office by the Governor hall appoint the heads of departments and all Commissioners except as otherwise provided by the the same manner as Sheriffs, except that the Governor may direct the inquiry provided by the the same manner as Sheriffs, except that the Governor he may, pending the investigation, suspend the Mayor for a period not exceeding thirty days.

The question that voters below the Bronx are now asking themselves is: If Augustus

The question that voters below the Bronx are now asking themselves is: If Augustus were elected Governor, would he ever remove or suspend Robert for any cause, no matter what, or however clearly the charges made against him were proven? They are wonderof the charter wouldn't become a dead letter. like section 115, which says that the Mayor must be "vigilant and active in enforcing the ordinances of the city and the laws of the State." Everybody knows that the against gambling and houses of prostitution and the Raines law are openly violated every day and night of the week. The Mayor knows it. Has anybody heard of any activity and vigilance displayed by him in enforcing these laws? Supposing Augustus were Governor and charges were made and proved that Bobert had violated his oath of office and had does anybody believe that Robert would be removed, or even suspended? The Mayor appoints every head of every deartment of the city government under Cro ker's orders. Suppose it came out that the head of some department was a party to a great theft of public moneys, direct or indirectly, and ments, were an intimate friend of Richard Croker, and suppose a part of the money so stolen were finding its way into the treasury of Tammany Hall. Does anybody suppose that Robert would remove the official? As a matter of fact. Croker wouldn't let him. It would then be "up to" Augustus to remove Robert. Does anybody believe that Augustus would be so couldn't. Croker wouldn't let him do it either.

There are Democrats who may say that no such case could ever arise. There are others make Judges his tools he will stop at nothing, and if he is made the beneficiary of official dishonesty, with one Van Wyck in the City Hall and the other in Albany, the city will be bound and gagged, powerless to defend herself from robbery and debauchery and with no one to come to her deliverance.

REPUBLICAN ECONOMY.

TWO SULLIVANS ARRESTED

SENATOR TIM'S COUSINS CHARGED

Fiorris and Chrystic Registered from the Baines Law Hotel at 57 Bowery— Dry Dellar Got Excited in Court and Called Superintendent McCullagh Names Superintendent McCullagh began yesterday his warfare against colonization and illegal registration on the east side right in the bosom of the Sullivan family. During the proceedings n the Essex Market Court in another case, Florence J. Sullivan, the Tammany Superin endent of the Bureau of Incumbrances, and his brother, Christopher, who are first cousins of Dry Dollar Sullivan, were placed under arrest on a charge of illegal registration preferred by one of Superintendent McCullagh's deputies Frederick W. Doewickel, a barkeeper in Chris topher Sullivan's employ, and John Perry wer also arrested on the same charge. Senator Dry Dollar Sullivan became excited during the proeedings and used vile language toward Superintendent McCullagh while both were standing in front of Magistrate Flammer.

The case which brought the Sullivans and their retinue to the court was that of the six men arrested about midnight on Monday while they were sleeping in the hay in the loft of a stable in the rear of a building in First street The stable is reached by an alleyway that leads from 56 First street. The six men registered in the Eighteenth election district Eighth Assembly district as living at 56 First street. That number designates a tenemen building on First street, and as the men could not be found there warrants were issued for their arrest. They were able to show yester-day, at the direction of Senator Tom Grady, that they had lived for years in the hay loft of the stable, and were consequently discharged

When these proceedings were concluded Senator Grady, addressing Magistrate Flammer. said: "I understand that Superintendent McCullagh has a warrant for the arrest of I want to say that Mr. Sullivan is here to deliver himself into custody."

Superintendent McCullagh made no reply at first, but after a moment's hesitation said "One of my deputies, I understand, has such a warrant and he has been instructed to serve it "Is that deputy here?" asked Senator Grady. "I do not know; I do not think he is," replied the Superintendent.

"Then, your Honor, I want it understood that the warrant should not be served at a time when it will be impossible for Mr. Sullivan to procure bail." "I think some arrangement should be made

"I think some arrangement should be made for all parties to agree on a time when they can meet here," said Magistrate Flammer.

"I have no intention of submitting Mr. Sullivan to any hardship," said Superintendent McCullagh.

"Why not serve the warrant here now?" sharply interposed Benator Sullivan,

He was standing at the time within two feet of Superintendent McCullagh, and those who saw the gleam in his eyes and knew some of Tim Sullivan's peculiarities anticipated open hestilities. At this juncture one of the deputies whispered to the Superintendent.

"Oh, by the way," said the Superintendent, "I think the deputy who has the warrants is here now."

"I think the deputy who has the warrants is here now."

"I thought you would come to that at last," shoated Sullivan as he moved over closer to McCullagh.

"You cur you! You cur you!" said Sullivan between his teeth as he got his face closer to the Superintendent's. "I have been listening to your buffs and what you intended to do to me," continued Sullivan. "I am tired of all your boastings and bluffs, you dirty cur."

"Senator is spator! Be cool now," interposed Magistrate Flammer.

Senator Grady and Florrie Sullivan got between Senator Time and the Superintendent and induced him to caim himself. During all this scene Superintendent McCullagh was the embodiment of urbanity.

"To think," he said, with a smile, to Magistrate Flammer, that only a short time ago this man was such a dear friend of mine."

Other deputies who had warrants against Christopher Sullivan and the other two men then came forward and they were served. The Magistrate paroled the men for examination on Thursday. The charge against the prisoners was that they registered in the Sixth Assembly district from 67 Bowery, but had real-dences in other districts. The building at 57 Bowery is a Raines law hotel, two stories in height. It was conducted for years by Florence J. Sullivan, and his name is still on the awning which stretches across the sidewalk. The piace at present is supposed to be owned by his brother. Christopher, who is better known along the Bowery as Chrystie.

Superintendent McCullagh said to a Sun reporter: "In the last hour of the last day of registration seventeen men, including the Sullivans, registered from this little hotel. The places was recently fitted out with cots, and it is, to my mind, one of the most glaring and palpable cases of colonization. I shall charge, and expect to be able to prove that the Sullivans and the other prisoners have homes in other places, and do not and have not lived in the little Raines law hotel. After the proceedings Superintendent McCullagh obtained another batch of warrants for the arrest of alleged illegal voters.

Three prisoners were arraigned in the West Fifty-fourth Street Police Court yesterday by Superintendent McCullagh's deputies upon the charge of illegal registration. The first case was that of Deputy L. Endelman against a man who described himself as William F. Loy of 432 West Thirty-fifth street. The warrant on which he was arrested had been issued by Magistrate Deuel for the arrest of John B. Lloyd of 418 West Forty-ninth street on the charge of registering illegally in the Sixteenth Election district of the Fifteenth Assembly district. The prisoner declared that he had not registered in any district. Deputy Endelman asked for more time in which to prove that Lloyd and Loy were the same and the case was adjourned until to-day. The ball was $1,000.

Antonio Sand of 451 West Forty-sixth street was arraigned on the charge of illegal registration in the Tenth Election district of the Fifteenth Assembly district. Deputy Harrison, who had made the arrest, said that Sand was not a citizen of the United States. The prisoner showed naturalization papers which he had taken out in New Jersey in 1880, and Magistrate Deuel dismissed the case. Sand and Loy were represented by Lawyer James E. Smith, Tammany candidate for the Assembly in the Fifteenth district.

The third case was that of Alexander McPhee of 537 West Fifty-second street. His excuse was that he had been fooled by the inspectors in the Eighth election district of the Soventeenth Assembly district, where he had registered.

"I went there," said the prisoner, "to find

OPEN TAMMANY BLACKMAIL. ale of License to Obstruct the Sidewalks

in Washington Market.

Tammany is going at her long stride, and raking in the "long green" on the way again, in a manner to win the admiration of those of her votaries who share in the "divvy," and to bring consternation to the victims, business men, who are coerced into making 'voluntary contributions' for the tiger's; benefit in the campaign. To put it boldly and in its bare iniquity. Tammany is again openly blackmailing merchants, extorting money from them under threats of partial enforce ment of laws and ordinances to the detriment blackmailing merchants, extorting money from them under threats of partial enforcement of laws and ordinances to the detriment of any who do not see their way to contribute "voluntarily" to the Tammany campaign fund. The assault on liquor sellers began some time ago, and the loot of the profits of evil resorts followed. Now the booths in Washington Market are under contribution. The collectors don't come at night but in the day-time, and they, come around in pairs with a susbcription paper and make their wants known with a frankness that in a just cause would be most commendable.

Two of them visited Washington Market on Monday. One of the Tammany men said that he came from a certain high officer of the city, the head of a department, and had papers to show for it. His companion, an employee of another city department, while the first man did the talking scrutinized the piles of boxes and barrels that incumbered the side walk in front of the merchant's place, a who should say: 'Well, I might find a violation of the Ordinances here if I tried real hard-and it was worth while." The Superintendent of the Bureau of Incumbrances, by the way, was arrested yesterday for illegal registration.

The combination of this second man's careful scrutiny of obstructing boxes and the cloquent pleadings of the other for 'voluntary contributions' to meet the expenses of the Tammany campaign, coupled with the thought that all departments of the city government were under Tammany's control, usually brought the merchant to see quickly that a "voluntary contribution" was the prudent thing under the circumstances. If he wished to conduct his business in peace. The buttonholer was a kindly man, and, not to leave the victim a meaning like that blazoned forth by those signs over certain cashlers' desks: "Pay here." The plan under which these collectors worked seemed to have been devised in such a way as to insure the contributions going to the collectors principals.

It is, of course much to the advantage of the Washington Market merchan tions can make a lot of trouble for the mer-chants. In former days money put in the proper places secured immunity for the mer-chants from police or other official molesta-tion. Tammany, has again resumed this method of securing the blackmail which is the life of its henchmen. Among the men ap-proached in Washington Market were men who are known to be Republicans who are supporting Roosevelt, yet they were boldly asked for "voluntary contributions" to aid in meeting the expenses of Tammany's cam-paign. One man who refused to pay was threatened with direful things and he awaits them.

"I went there," said the prisoner, "to find out whether I could qualify as a voter or not. I told the inspector that I had lived in the district since Oct. 10, and they assured me that I would be allowed to vote. Then I registered," McPhee's case was adjourned until to-day, and he was released on $1,000 bail furnished by former Assemblyman Thomas J. McMannus. Superintendent McCullagh visited the Yorkville Police Court yesterday, accompanied by seven of his deputies, awd applied to Magistrate Meade for a number of warrants for the arrest of i legal voters. The deputies have been at work in the Yorkville district for several weeks gathering evidence. In their investigation they discovered a plan in one of the Assembly districts to cast a large number of illegal votes on election day. This evidence was laid before the Magistrate and he issued anumber of warrants.

D. Rossini, a private detective of 106 Clinton place, was arrested yesterday by one of Superintendent McCullagh's deputies on a charge of illegally registering in the Nineteenth Election district of the Fifth Assembly district. Rossini was locked up in the Macdougal street station.

Roosevelt at each of the six big massmeetings on Monday night. Participators at the various demonstrations all agreed that never before in the history of Brooklyn was a candidate met with a series of such magnificent receptions.

The success all along the line lon Monday fortified the oninions of Col. Michael J. Dady, Walter B. Atterbury, Col. Willis L. Ogden and the other managers that Col. Boose velt is going to march out of Brooklyn next Tuesday night with a handsome plurality. Magistrate Jacob Brenner, who has his home in the centre of the Tenth ward, a Demoeratic stronghold, and who has always been regarded as a most conservative political foreeaster, had this to say yesterday of the situa tion: .'If the conditions which I know exist it the Tenth ward count in other directions, Col Roosevelt will earry Brooklyn by from 10,000 to 12,000 plurality."

Day by day deserters from the old Shepardits flock are soming into the Republican fold. Gen. J. J. Morison, who had been for five years one of Mr. Shepard's chief aides in the independent Democratic movement to crush Wiloughby street, has come out in this statement: "Mr. Van Wyck voted for Bryan in 1808. and it is reasonable to suppose that he would vote for silver again if the occasion called for it. If Van Wyck should be elected his victory would be claimed as a victory for silver. "I have the highest regard for Congressman

Hurley, the Republican candidate in the Second district, as a public man and as a private citizen. Like Mr. Hinrichs, I consider him a man of sterling character and scrupulous honeitizen. Like Mr. Hinrichs. I consider him a man of sterling character and scrupulous honesty, but aside from this, I shall vote for him because I know where he stands on the financial question, and that is more than can be said of his opponent. I see that his opponent has been interviewed at length on the issues of this campaign, and that he fairly dodred the question of silver. We want men to go to Congress now who will stand by the Administration, particularly on the subject of sound money. I admire Mr. Hurley, and I shall glady do all I can to secure his election. I shall also vote for Col. Roosevelt."

Henry W. Sherrill, a prominent real estate man, who also fought side by side with Shepard in the anti-McLaughlin crusade, has declared for Roosevelt. He said:

"I am a Democrat, but I am a hard-money Democrat, and I shall not vote the Democratic ticket as long as there is a possibility to encourage it to stick to the silver heresy. When Democratic conventions go wild over Bryan's name and practically indorse Bryan by returning to take back their previous indorsement of him, I shall not be with him. I shall vote the Republican ticket as long as I think it is necessary to do so in order to keep out Bryanism and all the other kindred doctrines. I know that we can trust Roosevelt, and we can read plainly what the Republican party proposes to do on national issues. On the other rand, the Democrats are studiously dodging the most important issues at stake in this election.

Former Assistant Corporation Counsel Henry Yonge, who was likewise extremely active in the Shepardite movement, is also said to have announced his determination to oppose the Croker-MeLaughlin combination.

Mr. Shepard is to have a demonstration of his own at the Academy of Music to-night and the Democratic managers have given him a solemn promise to fill up any gaps in the audisme caused, by the desertions of his old followers by sending along delegations from; the Second, Fifth, Sixth and Tenth wards which are within a convenient distance of political somersault.

Col. Roosevelt's final visit to Brooklyn before election will be on Friday. Early in the evening the real estate men, who are almost solid for the Republican ticket from top to botsolid for the Republican tleast from top to bot-tom will give him a rousing reception in the Real Estate Exchange in Montague street. Col. Booseveit's speaking tour will include that Sixth. Eighth and Twelfth wards and the grand wind-up will be at the Clermont Avenue

"Democratic politicians."

"How do they do it?"

"They represent that cheap money is what the poor man wants to make times good."

"Isn't that right?"

"Is it?"

"Well, in the spring of 1897, when these fellows had had a chance to push their cheap money notions, there were 40,000 more men belonging to labor unions out of work than there are now, when good money has likely come to stay."

"Government figures show it, and they show that 12 per cent, of, all organized labor in New York was idle in March, 1897, and only 6 per cent, of it is idle now."

TRIUMPH IN SIGHT, SAYS HANNA. Patriotism and Integrity Will Win as in the CLEVELAND, Nov. 1 .- Senator Hanna in a interview this morning expressed confidence in Republican victory throughout the country He declares that the outlook is far better to-day He declares that the outlook is far better to-day than it was a month ago and is most favorable for a big Republican triumph.

"The same forces which won the victory of 1896 will win the battle of 1896," declared Mr. Hanna. "The patriotism and integrity of the country are at stake, and when this is the issue patriotism always wins. I feel confident that the Republicans will hold the next Congress. As to Ohio, reports from all over the State indicate Republican victories."

UPHOLD THE PRESIDENT. SENATOR SEWELL DEFINES THE ISSUES CLEARLY.

New Jersey Sure to Elect a Republican Governor, but That Is Not Enough—Congress Must Se Kept, That We May Realize the Proper Benefits of Our Feats at Arms. TREATON N. J. Nov. 1 .- In an Interview tolay on the political outlook in New Jersey. United States Senator Sewell, the Republican leader in the State, said: "It ought to be brought prominently before the people that while the war with Spain is over there are a great many important matters to be settled which may be determined one way or the other in proportion to the support that the President of the United States receives from the country in the election of members of Congress to the next House. Deliberately thoughtful men, whether Re-publicans or Democrats, should stop and think what the results of their votes will be when they are cast for members of Congress this year. We now have a Congressional delegation of eight Republicans in New Jersey, and I see that our Democratic friends are counting on electing three of their party in this contest. I trust that they will not succeed. I want to see President McKinley have the full support of the people of New Jersey in his efforts to settle the momentous questions growing out of the war with Spain.

The New Jersey Democrats pretend to avoid national issues in this campaign. They have not done so. They have arraigned the Federal Government for bad management of he war, for ill treatment of the soldiers and sailors. They have hounded the Secretary of War with the few journals at their command papers that are largely responsible for the war As I have said in public before, there was never before an army of 275,000 men increased from 25,000 in so short a time. The arms and equipments we were obliged to purchase abroad to some extent, much of the clothing was manufac tured in the mills of this country, and all within the space of one hundred days, at the end of which time we presented the magnificent spec-tacle of having 25,000 men engaged in action in Cuba and 15,000 in Porto Rico, with 250,000 men under arms in camp, clothed and equipped ready to support their comrades in the field. The gallant soldiers at the front, under command of great leaders, won the day, but the solid battalions in camp that were ready to support them overawed the Spanish nation. It demonstrated the fact that our people meant to succeed at any cost,

"All of our great victories could not be achieved in a tropical or semi-tropical climate without sickness, and every man connected with the War Department knew that. War is ot child's play. It is not a holiday excursion It means suffering, pain, and death, as well m the glory that we exult in ; and it is contempti-ble for men to undertake to make political ble for men to undertake to make political capital by blaming the Administration for the essualties of war and unmercifully hounding the Secretary of War and holding him accountable for the sickness that can reasonably be looked upon as a natural consequence of a hastily organized army and a quickly won victory on the field of battle."

Concerning the contest in New Jersey, Gen. Sewell said: "We can elect the Governor without a majority in Essex county, but we must carry that county to insure a Republican majority in the Legislature, which is necessary to the election of a Republican to the United States Senate. I shall be very much disappointed if Essex county does not elect the full Republican wicket by a good, rousing majority. The same questions are alive to-day that resulted in the election of Gov. Griggs in 1895 by 27,000 plurality, and in giving McKinley and Hobert the splendid majority of 87,000. Anything which would weaken our financial con-Hobart the splendid majority of 87,000. Anything which would weaken our financial condition or change our tariff would, in my opinion, reduce the workingmen of New Jersey to the almost helpless condition they were in in 1890, and there would be more soup-house fires than were burning in the factories of the land.

1893, and there would be more soup-house fires than were burning in the factories of the land.

"While I do not expect to see such tremendous majorities as we had two years age, I cannot by any process figure out success for the Democratic party in New Jersey this year. The Same questions are to the fore, the same voters are on the ground, and it is not reasonable to suppose that all of them have changed their minds. I therefore look for the election of Foster M Yoorhees and a majority of the members of the Legislature.

"The Democrate have ignored the national issues in their platform because they knew that a majority of their party in New Jersey are for free silver, and they did not dare to open up that question in the State. It has, however, been brought to the front in the Congressional districts, and the people fully understand the situation. The Democrats knew there was nothing to be gained by discussing the tariff issue, as the Wilson bill closed most of our factories, leaving workingmen, without wages and manufacturers without capital. This unfortunate condition was changed by the Republican Congress, and now business is booming throughout the State."

Referring to the Democratic charge that the Republicans had largely increased public expenditures in the State. Gen. Sewall said there was no truth in it, except that "the Republicans have made more public improvements than the Democrats did, and there is something substantial to show for the money. The current expenses have been considerably increased by giving salaries to officers who formerly received fees. Our State finances were never better managed and were never in a healthlet condition than now, as is shown by the balance of over a million dollars in the treasury, as reported to the Governor yesterday by Comptroller Hancock."

ATTACKED A REPUBLICAN TRUCK.

East Side Tammany Thugs Practice the "Knock 'Em Down" Programme. Trucks fitted with Tammany transparencies have been going through the east side streets of the Fourth Assembly district for several nights unmolested and usually unnoticed by the law-abiding Republican residents. The Republicans naturally supposed that they also had a right to send out a truck or two. They tried it for the first time last night.

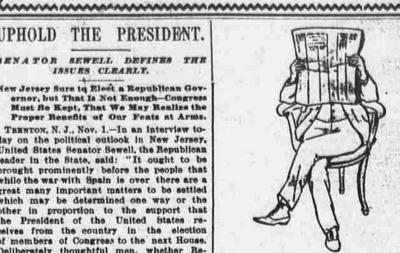

The James G. Blaine Club, which meets at 213 East Broadway, hired a truck driven by Joe Goodwin and put huge transparencies or he sides and end bearing the names of the Republican candidates for State offices and the local candidates for Congress and the Assembly. The truck started out as darkness set in. Several members of the James G Blaine Club, including Isaac Cohen, were or the truck. It made a tour of the district and everywhere there were demonstrations against Goodwin's horse was headed down Fast Broadway for the headquarters of the club. Men grabbed the horse's head and brought it to a standatill. Some of them climbed upon the tailboard of the truck and tore down the transparency where. A fusiliade of missiles damaged the other transparencies.

A jagged stone struck Driver Goodwin near the right eve, nearly destroying the sight. He managed to start the horse again and left his pursuers, who dispersed when they saw how badly he had been hurt. Goodwin's wound was dressed by Dr. A. C. Wolbarst, who is a member of the James G. Blaine Club. Mr. Cohen says there were no bolicemen in sight when the crowd attacked the truck.

The club directors declared last night that they would take the truck through the district to-night and that they expected the protection of the police. roung thugs petted the truck with stones
